PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Acroprint HP 2000 HandPunch 2000 Biometric Time and Attendance Terminal The HP 2000 HandPunch Biometric Terminal is a hand geometry recognition terminal HandPunch 2000 512 employee capacity. Eliminate the need for badges and time cards Highly accurate HandPunch terminals bring the convenience and security of biometric technology to time and attendance tracking. Now featuring BioCote anti microbial technology on the HandPunch platen Employees clock in and out simply and quickly by entering their ID number and placing their hand on the HandPunch unit. The typical verification time is only one to two seconds HandPunch terminals at a glance Accountable Reliable biometric technology eliminates costly buddy punching. Employees must be present to clock in Efficient With no more paper time cards, clerical errors in payroll preparation are reduced or eliminated. Economical There s no more need to continually purchase or maintain stocks of badges, time cards, ribbons or other supplies. HandPunch technology uses field proven hand geometry biometrics recognition based on the size and shape of the hand. The system does not capture fingerprints or palm prints. Hand geometry is highly accurate, and is generally not affected by rings, small adhesive bandages, false fingernails and the like. Green and red lights notify the employee of the status of each punch. Now, HandPunch terminals are even better, with BioCote anti microbial technology inhibiting the growth of germs or bacteria on the platen between cleanings. The HandPunch 2000 is designed for single unit installations. All HandPunch terminals carry a one year warranty. All units include a 120V AC to 13.5V DC power supply and an installation and operation manual
